Andrews, State Official, Talks Monday

Lloyd D. Andrews, State Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State of Washington, will be the speaker at Monday's forum assembly.

Andrews was elected to the position in November of 1956, and during his tenure of office he has given strict attention to strengthening the curriculum offerings of the schools.

HE SAYS HE believes that teachers should be adequately schooled in academic subjects and be trained in the methods of giving meaning to teaching by implementing new methods, materials and techniques.

Andrews was born in Montana in 1920. He moved with his family to Washington in 1923. He attended a rural elementary school and was graduated from Mead High School in Spokane in 1938.

HE WORKED his way through Washington State College and received a bachelor of science degree in 1942. He completed his graduate work in the school of Education at WSC.

His first teaching experience was at Prescott, (Wash.) High School 1942-43. He resigned to serve as a company commander and instructor in the United States Navy from 1945-1946.

ANDREWS WAS elected to the state senate in 1952, serving four years. He was active on the education, college and library appropriation, agriculture and livestock, ways and means, industrial insurance, labor and industries and legislative budget committees. He was also a member of the Legislative Council.

Luke Tells Story of Birth of Christ

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenus was governor of Syria.) And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

AND JOSEPH ALSO WENT up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, (because he was of the house and lineage of David) to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child. And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger because there was no room for them in the inn.

AND THERE WERE in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

AND THIS SHALL be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

AND THEY CAME WITH haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning the child. And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

Lloyd D. Andrews ... will speak at Monday forum assembly.

Staff Pans Move To Industrial Bldg.

by Rita Wheeler
Universe News Editor

Plans are now being made by industrial education staff members for their move into the new industrial education building during Christmas vacation, according to Guy Pierce, chairman of the Industrial Education Dept.

THE FIRST INSPECTION of the building to see what parts will be ready for occupancy will be on Tuesday, Pierce said. He emphasized that this first inspection is by no means any indication that the building is completed.

He said that about half of the rooms will be used next quarter, and workmen will be working on those areas while classes are going on.

RE-EMPHASIZING the fact that the arrangements during winter quarter will be temporary, Pierce said that no date has been set for the dedication because the building cannot be "finished until blacktop can be added in the spring.

Dec. 15 was the estimated finishing date of the building, but Pierce explained that the Salt Lake City contractors—Mark B. Garff, Ryberg and Garff—had been given a 45-day extension on their contract because of the steel strike and contract-signing difficulties.

BUILT DUE EAST of Central Heating Plant, the building is 304 feet by 128 feet and has 35,590 square feet of floor space. It is being built at an estimated cost of $612,800.

Glass areas cover the top half of the building, and the lower part is of solid gable roof brick to match the other recent buildings on campus.

IT HAS 20 stories and will house on the main floor the machine shop, wood shop, arc and gas welding laboratories and general shop.

The second floor will have drafting and graphic arts rooms, classrooms and offices. Elevators and sawdust chutes have been included in the plans.

THE NEW BUILDING will be the center of activity of the General College of Brigham Young University, which was created last year.

LOOK, MOMMY—Childlike interest in big bulldozers, big holes in the ground and big piles of dirt are, strangely enough, not limited to small children. But how did they get inside the fence?

LOTS OF WORK—Workmen of Y campus not only build new structures. They extend and improve existing buildings. Here an addition is being made to Smith Fieldhouse.

CONSTRUCTION CONTRACTIONS—Pulleys, pipes, steel beams and two-by-fours are all part of the scene at the X-shaped hole that will become the administration building.

SOME TOMB!—Getting in on the ground floor of the new library would be quite a trick. Note the comparative size of sawhorses and basement walls. The shot was taken looking west toward the Smith Family Living Center.

IT'S NEARLY FINISHED—Students majoring in industrial arts will soon move into this building. Modern design and increased facilities are characteristic of the structure.

MANY-EYED ARGUS—Vacant windows in the new business building stare at the machinery and debris involved in campus construction. The building is northwest of Smith Family Living Center.

Slutloe Legend arks Christmas

Slutloe, nature's "license" for kissing any girl who stands beneath it, has become a part of Christmas decorations in the area.

IT'S TIME A kiss is stolen under the tree, a white berry is plucked off the tree. When all the berries are gone, the magic is magic.

French books refer to mistletoe as "l'herbe aux amants." According to old Scandinavian legend, the son god, was pined to death by a mistletoe when Loki, the mischievous, an arrow from a branch and gave it to order to shoot.

Her mother, Frigg, pleaded with the god to restore her son's life. Balder was re-born and thereafter the gods decreed that he would never again be used for mistletoe.

Calories, Anyone? ...

Porky Americans Lose Dough, Save Pudge, with Bogus Pills

Overweight Americans will spend more than a billion dollars this year on a variety of reducing gimmicks that range from pennies-a-day drugs to vibrating machines costing hundreds of dollars.

MOST OF THESE devices will reduce only the bank accounts of the suckers who buy them.

The sad truth, according to December Reader's Digest, is that no gadget, gimmick or drug can accomplish the "painless, no-diet reducing" that sponsors claim for them.

Indeed, says author Blake Clark, many are sold as a part of a reducing plan that includes a diet. It's the diet, not the drug, that melts the pounds away.

RECENT Congressional hearings on false and misleading advertising revealed that drugs, candy and wafers widely advertised as "hunger-reducers" are not only ineffective, but can be harmful.

One "stuffer" is supposed to reduce hunger by producing bulk in the stomach. But nutritionist Dr. S. W. Kalb testified: "Actually it doesn't work in the stomach at all. It works in the intestinal tract, where there are no hunger contractions."

ANOTHER widely advertised "reducing wafer" was found to contain nothing but powdered skim milk, lemon juice and vitamins. It cost the manufacturer less than ten cents to produce yet sold for three dollars a bottle.

Legal technicalities make it difficult to prosecute those who sell the reducing gimmicks, says Clark. But a recent "get-tough" law passed by the Federal Trade Commission promises to crack down on misleading advertising claims.

CLARK ASKED, however, that the companies must depend on their own common sense to make sure they're not taking advantage of the public.

Long-Play Discs Offer Music, Sounds, Poetry

Little more than ten years after starting listening to the recorded for entertainment, the music picking record, high fidelity, and the sound of a violent music, enthusiasts can choose today from more than the gripping of water into a variety of records ranging from a sonnet.

Prokofiev to Presley (the latter single operas to the third of a word).

AN ARTICLE in the December Reader's Digest reports on the plunging down 425 million dollars a year for the privilege.

Could beneficiaries of the spurring business have been "longhair" music fans, notes author Don Murray. Ten years ago, a long-playing record catalogue published by William Schwann listed 11 companies offering 407 classical works by 96 composers.

TODAY THE Schwann catalogue lists 499 companies which sell 12,514 recordings of 777 composers.

But lovers of classical music aren't the only beneficiaries. Many of the 28,000,000 phonograph-equipped American homes echo to the sound of rock-n-roll records, put out by more than 1500 small but hopeful record companies.

EVEN WEIRDER sounds prevail in some homes. Among a bit of aficionados, hours may be

It's Merry Christmas Time...

CHRISTMAS CHEER—Three BYU coeds seem happy—and a little surprised—to see Santa descend down their chimney. Judging from the gifts he's handing out, Santa Claus was expecting a somewhat younger group of girls.

At Yule Fests. . .

Campus Kris Kringle Exudes Holiday Spirit

Smalfry aren't the only ones who believe in Santa Claus. Many Brigham Young University organizations have the jolly old fellow bring some of the "Spirit of Christmas" to their yuletide festivities.

FILLING the very important role of Santa for many Y students is Charles Johnson, a sophomore from Kingsport, Tenn. His annual job as Santa provides him with pleasure and at the same time helps him through school.

Y's First Lady Tells of Ideal Christmas Day

How will the first lady of the United States spend her Christmas? Chances are she'll spend a typical American Christmas complete with a brightly decorated tree, Christmas stockings and turkey dinner with her family.

This is also the kind of Christmas that will be celebrated by BYU's own first lady, Mrs. Ernest L. Wilkinson.

MRS. WILKINSON said Tuesday she believed the single most important contributing factor for a happy holiday season is to be able to be with your loved ones in good health. To spend a holiday alone would not make a happy one, she added.

She said the ideal Christmas day should contain a certain period set aside to reminisce and meditate and think about your many blessings.

CHRISTMAS COMES about two weeks early for us at BYU," Mrs. Wilkinson continued. What she was referring to is the fact that the president and his wife gear their Christmas so that they can share the spirit with students before they leave the university to go home.

Johnson began his role in a hometown hardware store six years ago. His popularity grew, and soon he was asked to parties and private homes.

TELEVISION and radio appearances followed for the student Santa.

Johnson says his infectious laugh, which he can hold for 10 minutes, is his biggest asset. "I copied it from a Santa I heard when I was a child," he volunteered.

A DEEP VOICE, carol singing and a special singing routine are a few of his techniques. To develop the characteristic deep voice for the Santa role, Charles has to work constantly to drop his "South Pole" accent.

"MY MOST thrilling experience as Santa was when I went to President McKay's home to entertain with a group of young people," Johnson said.

Being Santa is not all fun and laughter, however.

JOHNSON DESCRIBES lollipops in his beard, children that offer him gum and candy (out of their mouths) and "smart kids" who pull his beard out and then let it pop back on his face as occupational hazards.

Holiday Events Include Parties, Movies, Dance

Outline of Christmas vacation activities for students remaining on campus was announced Thursday by Bliss Harmer, chairman of Christmas holiday activities committee.

BESIDES the basketball games, regularly scheduled on the calendar, festivities will begin Wednesday, Dec. 23, with a hayride, caroling, party and dance. The party will start at 7 p.m., and participants will meet in the Smith Bldg. lobby.

Monday, Dec. 28, Carol Hall (No. 17) will be the site of a 7 p.m. candy pull party.

NEXT EVENING at 7 o'clock, students may see the movie "Public Pigeon Number 1," in the Smith Auditorium.

Then on Wednesday, Dec. 30, the committee will sponsor an ice skating party, 2:30 p.m., at Vivian Park. Students will meet in the Smith Family Living Center lobby.

A NEW YEAR'S EVE dance will be conducted Thursday night at the four stake center.

Final event scheduled is a movie Friday, Jan. 1, "The Conqueror" at 7 p.m. in Smith Auditorium.

CHEER, JOY—Three BYU freshman are re-reigning as Provo's holiday sparklers. Sandra Asay (l) is Miss Cheer and Connie Bingham is Miss Joy. Miss Merry Christmas, Linda Terry, was out spreading Christmas happiness at picture time. Chosen from 16 finalists, the Provo girls were judged on charm, poise, Christmas sparkle, personality, speech, beauty and socialization.

PIXIES LEAVE all sorts of delectable goodies for their girls. Fruit, especially apples and oranges, candies and cake stuffs are the most popular items.

Small vials of perfume, sachet, hand cream and even toothpaste are other pixie gifts.

Pixie's favorite working hours are from 10:30 p.m. until 12 p.m. During this time she is very active. Ingenious devices used by pixie help her to accomplish her nightly mission.

TENNIS SHOES and sneakers become popular footwear during the week. Sneakiness is of the utmost importance, for pixie doesn't want to be caught.

A squawky, or a squeaky voice is developed for those important telephone calls. Shaky handwriting and faulty penmanship grows apace as pixie strives to keep her identity secret.

A "pixie hunt," leading from the laundry room in the basement, up to the top floor flowerboxes and back to the fireplace where the gift is tucked into a small niche, becomes a familiar trek for many girls.

PIXIE is not limited to gift-giving. One girl returned home after a trying day to find her Pixies have even been known to arrange blind dates.

CLIMAXING the week is a pixie party held Sunday, after dorm hours. Pixies buy their girls small gifts, not exceeding 75 cents. That night Santa visits the dorm and distributes the presents.

The big secret is out and pixies are revealed. Carol singing and refreshments are also enjoyed.

THE PIXIE program is designed to promote a friendly Christmas spirit among the girls.

Men in the Walter Stover Hall of Helaman Halls are really celebrating Christmas this year!

On the second floor of the hall is the men's rest room. Upon opening the door, one sees a large Christmas tree standing against the window in the back of the room.

The tree is decorated with lights, tinsel, and other little Christmas ornaments. Lying underneath the tree is a little gray dog.

On each of the doors in the room are small holly and pine wreaths.

Santa Says

by Gave Hicks
Universe Society Writer

What makes the difference between "just another holiday" and fun Christmas that gets more exciting every day the thought of all the good food or the gifts you will get? Of course not, the real magic of Christmas is the fun you get from giving gifts that you know will please others.

The way to select a gift that will make a big hit is to fit the individual tastes and activities of your recipient. Consider his hobbies and personality.

Give the coed who likes to cook one of those intricate cookbooks for gourmets so that she can really be excited you come to dinner. There are many other kinds of cookbooks—some of them very funny—and they may even come with a novelty apron which she is sure to like.

If she's the party type, give her some perfume. She even the tiniest bottle of good perfume much more than the biggest bottle of the drug store variety.

Any girl needs and appreciates a sparkling gold or silver lip stick holder. These may look glamorous but their range from $2 to $10. Get her one with a mirror attached so you will be in solid.

A coed's roomie can be a real problem but not if she is a sewer. Spend a little time shopping around for some unique items or an attachment for her sewing machine. Make it a yarn if she likes to knit her own sweaters.

For the special girl who likes practical gifts, get one of those "lady" fountain pens. They are patterned and decorated to please her and refill just like her lip-stick.

A male who is an avid chess player will like a pocket chess set in a crush-proof case. It works like a peg board; he can pick up in the middle of a game and finish later.

Buy him something for his desk: a blotter, a letter tray, a desk set, a pen set or a novel. Whatever it is, personalize it with his name or initials.

For a crazy gift he will like, get your man a humorous low for his bed. In this same category are ivy league underwear socks and nebbishes.

Books and magazine subscriptions are prized by many. Check his jewelry as most men get a lot of it for Christmas and would probably appreciate something else. If you want to give him jewelry, however, see if you can find a clip to match his favorite cuff-links.

Needless to say anything you knit, sew, or cook with a hit with both sexes. A man who is handy with tools and leather, or metals can make some really sharp gifts. Brooms, little bracelet racks, treasure boxes, and bookends are easy to make.

Everyone appreciates records (to add to their collection or whatever it may be). Many magazines, newspapers on what records are tops in each field. Gloves, handkerchiefs, wallets, and anything for a top.

The most important gift of all is the thought and effort you put in selecting just the right gift. Without these a gift is empty no matter how much it costs.

Cinnamon Buns Make Treat

Coeds, here is a recipe for sticky cinnamon buns that are sure to please your roommates and boyfriends.

Ingredients

2 cups scalded milk
1½ tsp. salt
4 tbs. sugar
1 yeast cake
¾ cup warm water
6 cups flour
4 tbs. butter
1½ cups brown sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 cup currants or raisins
Cool the milk to lukewarm. Add salt, sugar and yeast cake dissolved in warm water. Add flour to make a soft dough and knead thoroughly until it no longer sticks to the board.
Put in a greased bowl and grease top of dough. Cover and let rise in a warm place for hours until it troubles a Roll into a sheet ¼" and spread with melted butter and cup of sugar. When light for 20 minutes in 400° oven.

Next Quarter Big Sis Forms Available Now

Today is the final day coeds can pick up big sister applications for winter quarter. The applications are available in the Associated Women Students' office in the basement of the Student Service Center.

Those coeds who sign up to be a big sister will be notified next week who their little sister is, according to Mary Fritache, big sister chairman.

The duties of a big sister entail writing a letter to an incoming freshman or transfer woman and making them feel welcome on the campus.

According to Miss Fritache, the fall quarter big sister program was very effective and the committee would like to continue the program.

Freshmen are eligible to be winter quarter big sisters.

Hints Given For Yule Greetings

People with a long list of friends to whom they want to send Season's Greetings should study the envelope situation as a way to cut time and work.

The press-and-seal envelopes require no moisture, insure the sender from feeling like he has been poisoned by an overdose of glue.

If you are having cards with your name printed on them, why not have your name and return address printed on the envelope, leaving you with a minimum of work in addressing Christmas cards.

FRIDAY INVITATIONAL—All set for Friday! Yet Non invitation- al are Ron Robison and Hanna Nielsen. The annual dance will feature a Hanging Gardens of Babylon theme. Refreshments and entertainment will follow the theme. Charlotte Britsch is chairman.

"THE WORM TURNS"

Shakespeare said it this way: "The smallest worm will turn, being trodden on." But Miguel de Cervantes beat him to it in "Don Quixote," Part II, Book 3: "Even a worm when trod upon, will turn again."

"MUSIC HAS CHARMS"

The 17th Century playwright, William Congreve, was the first to set down this classic metaphor concerning the powers of sound and rhythm. You'll find the whole quote in "The Mourning Bride," Act I, Sc. 1:

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast, To soften rocks, or bend a knotted oak."

"RHYME OR REASON"

Edmund Spenser, 16th Century poet, expected a pension. He didn't get it. So he wrote this rhyme: "I was promised on a time/To have reason for my rhyme/From that time unto this season,/ I received nor rhyme nor reason."

President Eisenhower... his 11-nation tour continues today.

Ike Tour Effects Foreign, Home Areas

Editor's note: Dr. J. Keith Malville, assistant professor of political science at Brigham Young University, analyzes the significance of President Eisenhower's 11-nation goodwill tour in the following article. Dr. Malville received his doctorate from the University of Utah in 1955.

by Dr. Keith Malville
Written for the Universe

President Eisenhower's good will tour is fraught with significance. Analysts have placed it along the spectrum from a rosy step along the road to world peace, to a coolly calculated political maneuver.

The importance clearly lies in the foreign affairs area, but the domestic side effects should not be overlooked.

EVENTS of the world is focused on India, as the most important visit on the tour. It is

Indian, Iranian Express Optimism over Ike Tour

by Paula Monsen
Universe Staff Writer

All America watches its President on his present good will trip among the nations of the world.

While Americans hope for the best, some of the citizens of the visited countries have expressed optimistic views on the advancement of understanding and peace.

"I FIRMLY believe that there is no problem, however great, that cannot be solved by peoples 'sitting across the table' talking," said Mahesh Narain, graduate student at BYU from New Delhi, India.

He feels that Eisenhower's reception abroad exceed that of Bulgarian and Khrushchev when they visited his country.

HOMAYOUN MAHMOUDI thinks the people of Iran (Persia) will accept Eisenhower not as President of the United States, but as a great general. "The people will remember him. He will see Persian hospitality in the kind and friendly faces."

Mahmoudi, a senior in psychology, approves of the exchange.

Disabling Illness Rises in America

NEW YORK, (UPI)—Americans are taking better care of themselves, but the proportion of disabling illnesses is growing, the Health Information Foundation reported.

The foundation said the reason for the apparent contradiction was the rising number of elderly persons and the extension of life for the seriously ill.

here that the current Chinese claims on Indian territory might provoke India into a shift of position which Ike hopes will be a windfall for the West.

Non-involvement policies of India in the cold war cannot be consistently continued now that India is involved. The time is propitious to bring the great sub-continent into alignment with the western powers. This is unquestionably one of the most important purposes of the tour.

THE QUEST for Indian support, however, suggests a real problem of U. S. foreign policy. India, herself, has only recently thrown off the mantle of colonialism.

She can possibly align herself with the United States because the United States also was a former colony of a common imperial power and is sympathetic to the nationalistic aspirations of the dependent people. But it will be difficult to bring cooperation to the western team when other nations of the West are traditionally unresponsive to nationalism.

THIS PROBLEM is more clearly seen when noting that the itinerary includes predominantly nations which have only recently joined the family of sovereign states, most significantly the Arab states, and also the symbol of colonialism, France.

Which policy of the United States will predominate: The long standing support of the European powers, or support of the self-expression of peoples? The Algerian problem does not present an easy solution, and Arab or French sympathies toward the United States could be as easily lost as won.

THE PRESIDENTS tour will be momentous, if the U.S. is not gored by one, or both, of the horns of this dilemma.

Domestically, the tour is coming at a time when the momentum for 1960 election is picking up. Some have suggested it is timed intentionally to enhance the political stock of Vice President Richard Nixon.

OTHERS FEEL that the President's trip will rob his attention to economic problems at home. The effect will be damaging to a Republican victory in 1960, says that school of thought.

Both positions have valid bases, but it would seem that the planners of the tour have not ignored domestic political possibilities, and are hopeful that it will auger well for Republicans in general and Nixon in particular.

BYU Class Officers Wrap Up Activities

by Bill Adair
Universe Staff Writer

With the quarter coming to a close, class officers at Brigham Young University express optimism for past and future activities of their respective classes. DOUG RHOTON, freshman class president, reports that, "The main goal of this year's freshman class officers is to serve the class in such a way that the enthusiasm and unity which has been displayed thus far will carry over into the years to come."

He also said that officers were stressing more participation in class government.

ACHIEVEMENTS of the freshman class include the selling of a record 2,000 class cards and a prize-winning float in the Homecoming parade.

According to Rhoton, the freshman class is presently working on a class assembly and a class carnival.

The sophomore class set tradition this year when they staged the first Sophomore Coalition. Sophomores also held a class

According to Dennis Taylor, sophomore vice president, class officers are planning another class party for next quarter similar to this quarter's Sophomore Jamboerie, and a class "snow party."

TAYLOR SAID that the sophomore cabinet had selected a class project. The project is a collection of books which the class will donate to the new BYU library.

Each book will contain the name and home town of its donor.

Ron Robinson, junior class president, reports that work will begin next quarter on the Junior Prom. The Prom will be held April 29-30. Robinson said that special emphasis will be put on getting a good name band and entertainment for the dance.

LAST YEAR the sophomore class voted for a research grant as a class project. During this year or next, an open meeting for class members will be held to make a definite decision on the project.

'Beloved Infidel'

A weak plot is the main fault of "Beloved Infidel."

THE PLOT—If you call it that—it is based on the true story of the love problems between F. Scott Fitzgerald, a popular novelist during the '20's, and Shiela Graham, an aspiring young girl from England trying to make good as a Hollywood columnist.

Fitzgerald (capably played by Gregory Peck) has problems of: he's married to a woman in a sanitarium; he's in love with another woman, and a bottle.

MISS GRAHAM (wonderfully played by Deborah Kerr) also has problems: she's not from the part of England she tells everyone she's from; she doesn't speak too well over the radio; and she's in love with Fitzgerald (an alcoholic who even once tries to kill her).

That is about all the movie says and it takes practically two long—hours just to say it. Besides the acting—which at moments gets a little too melodramatic—the only two other good points of interest are the few scenes with co-star Eddie Albert and the music.

K. B.

'Wreck of Mary Deare'

"The Wreck of the Mary Deare" is well packed with suspense, action and drama, and has a comparatively new touch—no love affair!

(THIS IS THE first film the reviewer has seen in years that romance of some sort has been left out. It's a big step because Hollywood "knows" that people just won't go to the box office unless they can see something "SEXational" or "SINational". Disney's been about the only one so far that can make money without it.)

The story involves Gary Cooper as the only occupant of a cargo ship, the Mary Deare, which is slowly sinking in a violent storm. Cooper wants to somehow save the ship for evidence against its mutinous crew.

CHARLTON HESTON is a member of a ship salvaging company that runs into the sinking ship during the storm. Heston

Catholics Question U.S. Refugee Law

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Leaders of the U. S. Catholic hierarchy questioned today whether America's immigration quotas are "too low" in view of this country's "immense economic strength."

The question was raised in a statement of the World Refugee Year issued by the administrative board of the National Catholic Welfare Conference. The board is composed of six U. S. cardinals, five archbishops and five bishops.

THE CATHOLIC prelate K. B. said the United States "Which is so lavishly blessed with God's bounty" has a "special" obligation to take in refugees and other immigrants.

"To stimulate Christian thinking" about this country's responsibilities, they asked these questions:

1. IS THE total number of quota immigrants too low, considering the immense economic strength of our nation? ("Even doubling the present effective quota immigrant level would be an insignificant factor in adding to our work force," the statement observed.)

2. "Are we doing our power, particularly this world refugee year the refugee and displacement?" (Congress adjourns without acting on admission bill.)

Escape Clause Of Johansson Becomes Vital

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(UPI)—A purported escape clause in the Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson return bout contract today became a vital factor in plans for Johansson's defense of the world heavyweight championship.

VINCENT J. Velella, the New York attorney who holds the return bout contract, was indicted yesterday on two counts of perjury arising out of investigations of last June's Johansson-Patterson fight in which Lago won the title.

In the indictment handed down by the New York County Grand Jury, Velella was charged with testifying falsely before the New York State Athletic Commission on Sept. 13 and before the Grand Jury on Aug. 10.

VELELLA surrendered in the office of New York District Attorney Frank Hogan and pleaded not guilty at his arraignment in general sessions. He was released in $1,000 bail.

Following Velella's arrest, Irving Kahn, a former associate in Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., revealed that he, Velella and Johansson signed a document in Sweden in August providing for "the resignation of anyone convicted of a crime."

Plenty of new faces should mean that New Mexico will at long last climb from the Skyline conference cellar. Things should be close, but the Lobos should edge Wyoming for the seventh

COACH BOB SWEENEY started four junior college transfers in the Lobo opener against Texas Tech, and despite the New Mexico loss by a score of 34-52, the mentor felt that "the team displayed a better floor game and more effort in its offensive and defensive patterns than at any time last season."

The New Mexico squad shot a cold 28 percent from the floor against the Red Raiders; however, Sweeney attributes most of the erratic shooting to first-year jitters.

Nine out of 12 men on the squad this year are new to the Albuquerque campus, and Coach Sweeney's building program is really beginning to take form. It is the second year at the helm of the Lobos for Sweeney.

THE SECOND outing found the New Mexico quietest outclassed by Colorado, 80-62.

"We showed enough against Tech," said Sweeney, "for me to feel that we will definitely have a good team as soon as we can get over our jitters and organize ourselves into a little more cohesive unit. With so many new boys on the squad, it will take them a little time to get used to playing together."

By the time the conference season gets underway the 32-year old mentor probably will have the team into shape for the journey up from eighth to seventh place.

THE ONLY letterman who is starting as of now for New Mexico is guard Gig Brummell. Much needed height will be supplied by transfer Dale Hawk, 6-7, junior Jim Cato, 6-6 and Jim Hall, 6-6, another transfer.

There isn't a senior on the present team and Sweeney has a good fresh team at Albuquerque. Lobo fans are predicting big things in the future for New Mexico. Sweeney's recruiting this season has given the Lobos a new hope on the hardwoods.

Conference Teams Play 17 Contests

This week seventeen games will be added to the list of fifteen played last week by Skyline conference teams.

MONDAY The University of Utah scored an impressive win over Border Conference favorite, New Mexico State, 82-67. Last week the Utes ran up 104 points to top Los Angeles State's 80, as New Mexico State was beating San Francisco, 72-63.

Wichita is due in Salt Lake for Friday and Saturday night dates with the Redskins.

UTAH STATE, after wins over Idaho State, 86-67, Seattle, 85-73, and Portland, 74-67, leads the league with a 3-0 record. USU met Iowa State yesterday winning, 71-66. Today they play Drake.

Montana took a victory over Idaho on Monday, 71-67, but lost to Washington State, 84-60, and Idaho, 76-59, in play last week. Wednesday Montana hosted South Dakota, winning 73-63. Montana has a Friday-Saturday series with Oregon slated for this weekend.

BIGHAM YOUNG hit the road for a Friday encounter with USC and a Saturday tilt with UCLA. Play last week rendered a split in a two-game series with Washington. The Cougars won the first game, 84-52, but lost the next night, 60-52.

Last week New Mexico dropped games to Texas Tech, 84-62, and to Colorado, 60-82. Saturday New Mexico meets New Mexico State in their own court.

WEDNESDAY Denver played at the Air Force Academy and will see no further action this week.

Wyoming has dropped games to Montana State, 59-69 and 76-53, in a Friday-Saturday series last week. Friday Wyoming meets Pepperdine and Saturday they play Texas Western.

COLORADO State lost last week to Colorado, 55-66 but rallied to win over Regis, 86-53 Saturday. This Saturday Colorado plays Regis again.

COUGAR Confidential

DISAGREE ABOUT FIGHTS

Church officials have put the taboo on fights on campus. This decision was made a few years ago when petition from Marv Jensen, then manager of a heavy tender, was given to athletic director Eddie Kimball a date for a fight in the Fieldhouse.

At that time the answer was that "there will be no fights at BYU" and this is still the policy, as Kimball.

This is a tough predicament for a church college, BYU, but maybe a little broader attitude on isolated, be appropriate. An excellent church member like Jensen should be given the break I feel. Most circles regard Jensen as gentlemen and not disreputable.

"TAINT" BRINGS DOUBT

The stigma which Frankie Carbo and others have to the boxing world is one of the major factors in their bar fights.

This is probably correct if we are going to consider as a whole, but a match between Fullmer and Sugars, for example, should be considered separately, general picture.

Utah Valley fans deserve an opportunity to see weight champion in action. And, only the Smith Flyers proper seating for such a crowd.

GLOBETROTTERS GET OKAY

The Harlem Globetrotters, whose games are a sport, have had the okay from church officials to the fieldhouse.

Personally, I think pro boxing, despite its detractors, is still more of a sport than the entertaining of the "Trotters stage here yearly.

An NCAA committee headed by Oklahoma football coach Bud Wilkinson recently condemned all staging of athletics on college premises. Their only exception an institution's facilities were the only ones suitable.

Seems that a definite exception could be made of Fullmer under both NCAA rulings and church statutes. From a financial point of view it's a shame if principals involved and the Utah sporting public had to be staged in USU's diminutive basketball barn.

TOP FLIGHT OPPONENTS

Six of the 17 teams on BYU's hoop slate are rated twenty by United Press's weekly poll this week.

Ohio State is fourth, Kansas is ninth, Utah is tenth. State is 14th, Southern California is 15th and UCLA.

This week's schedule finds the Cougars going against these squads in what is probably the toughest week have, next to the Kansas-Kansas St. tour next week. Out of the next six games, the Cats face five of the "top twenty." One thing's sure, if the Wattmen had a spark by the end of practice season it won't be the calibre of opponents.

Cats Face Southland Tests

Next Weekend Sees Cougars in Kansas

by Howard Hill
Universe Sports Writer

Brigham Young University will jump from the "Kettle to the Fire" this weekend as the Cougar basketball five face two West Coast powerhouses in the Southland tonight and tomorrow night starting at 7:30.

THIS EVENING the Cats tangle with the Bruins of UCLA, and tomorrow night USC, ranked 15th in the nation, will take the court against the men of Stan Watts.

Both contests will be staged in Los Angeles' new $5,000,000 Sports Arena, which seats around 18,000. Both games will be part of double headers, with Oklahoma State being the fourth team.

THE COUGARS' Friday night opponents are ranked 20th in the nation. They have won two games, while losing one to Kentucky. UCLA's wins are over USC and Santa Clara.

«On the USC record are wins over 8th ranking Kentucky, and Santa Clara, while their only defeat, as mentioned, has been at the hands of the Bruins.

ON THE BYU side of the ledger, the Cats knocked off Washington in their season opener Friday night, 54-52, but the Huskies rebounded with a 60-52 clubbing of the Cougars the next night.

According to Watts, the Cougars have to improve on three phases of their playing it they expect to get by the two California invs this weekend.

NUMBER ONE is the defensive mistakes the Cats made last weekend. Also a problem against the Huskies was the poor rebounding the Cougars displayed.

The 3rd phase the Cats have been working on this week, which was exceptionally bad Saturday night, is the driving game. Watts indicated the Y's driving game was way off. That is one of the reasons BYU had only 9 free throws in the whole game.

UCLA is sparked by three outstanding junior college transfers. They are John Berlich, 6'8", Bill Allis, 6'3", and Bob Berry, 5'10". The two fellows the Cougars will have to watch are 6'6", 210 pound Kent Miller, and 6'9", 239 pound Warrnell Jones, the Bruin centers.

UCLA's starting five will probably include Miller, and Gary Cunningham at forwards, Bob Hinch at center, and Bill Hicks and Allis, who both stand 6'3", at guards.

USC'S GREATEST asset is that they have all their starters from last year back. Add to this the talents of junior college transfer Reed Minkin, a 6'6", 200 pounder from San Marina, and the sophomores up from the Trojans' undefeated freshman quiet last season, and you can see why the men of Forrest Twoogood are ranked 15th in the nation.

John Wernas is the top man of the USC squad. The 6'7" guard is rated the best player in the PCC this season. He is backed by 6'9" Jim Hann and Bob Hampton.

FOLLOWING their journey to southern California, the Cats will then head for Kansas next weekend where they will face Kansas State and Kansas on two successive nights. This Sunflower Invitational tourney will be held in Lawrence on Friday night and Manhattan Saturday, with the University of San Francisco being the fourth team.

The Cougars will rest one day,

CROUCHING CAT—Brigham Young University forward Valoy Eaton is expected to start for the Cougars when they meet the University of Southern California and the University of California at Los Angeles Friday and Saturday.

TELLER OF TALES

One evening after scanning the society page of the local paper, a woman asked her husband if he thought any girl on it was prettier than she. "No, honey," he said, "there's not one there as pretty as you."
"That's why I love you, she told him. "You're so kind and sweet and loyal."
"Yes," he said, "And chicken, too."
